ABOUT OLIVIA

The arts have allowed me to challenge and build my individuality, while exploring the joys and hardships of the world -- and specifically, who we are as humans.

I am passionate about creating and participating in work that inspires and encourages thought, empathy, and conversation. I enjoy creating all genres and mediums of work, and particularly get pulled toward projects that tell stories, or teach me something deeper about myself.

My physical theatre and dance training inspires my modeling by way of innovative and connected poses, grounded posture, and bodily awareness. I will always bring my full self to any and all projects.

I take pride in being a well rounded human. I am giddy about symbolism and alliteration. Flowers make me happy. I enjoy tutoring math, drinking tea while finishing a good book, playing Scrabble on a Saturday night, going on aimless road trips, and practicing and teaching yoga!

Cheers,

OLIVIA LODGE
